Letter of support

Dear sirs,

ADHS Deutschland e. V. fully supports the proposal „CHILDhealth“ to become an integral partner within the National Center for Child and Adolescent Health.

We are a national non-profit organisation providing support, advocacy and education for individuals and families affected by attention-deficit and/or hyperactivity disorder (ADHD). ADHS Deutschland e.V. operates more than 200 local and regional support groups, virtual self-support-groups and a federal telephone and mail helpline network of advisers. It offers regular advanced training for its regional group leaders in order to ensure high quality standards of support and communication. ADHS Deutschland e. V. organises regional and national continuing education courses for parents, physicians, therapists, teachers and educators, persons concerned, and members of the organisation. Moreover, we initiate the implementation of projects and therapies by medical and social institutions, charities and others and support the collaboration in working parties and networks. To achieve these goals we maintain contact with other national and international organisations with similar objectives for a coordinated representation of common interests, particularly at political level. We promote causal research as well as diagnosis and therapy of ADHD at any age, including related comorbidities and offer contacts and exchange of experiences, conferences, continuing education courses, and publications on issues related to ADHD. We are committed to work in accordance with state-of-the-art evidence-based medicine and psychology while remaining open towards new developments.

Both Tobias Banaschewski as well as Marcel Romanos are longstanding partners and have supported ADHS Deutschland e.V. as members of the scientific advisory board. Both have a long track-record of intensive collaboration with our national self-help organization and have provided substantial support for our members by numerous talks, congresses and meetings as well as close collaborations within the national guideline development. Furthermore, ADHS Deutschland e. V. was given broad international visibility by repeatedly providing us active roles in carrying out the ADHD World congress in various locations.

We are thrilled and excited to transport our longstanding partnership to the National Center and ADHS Deutschland e.V. will be an active partner in our joint effort to improve clinical care and prevention in Germany.

With regards,

Dr. Myriam Bea
